

The Library Gateway provides a complete guide to electronic resources available across the University:

<http://www.lib.cam.ac.uk/electronicresources/index.php>

Select 'Anglo-Saxon, Norse & Celtic' from the drop-down menu.

Literature Online (LION) provides access to some Anglo-Saxon material:

<http://lion.chadwyck.co.uk/>

Note: A Raven password is required for online access off-campus.

Recommendations

The College Library aims to provide all works necessary for Part One courses, and a selection of the most important works required for Part Two. We receive reading lists from the departmental libraries in advance of each academic year, and continually update the Library collections in response to requests from Directors of Studies, supervisors, and students. If texts you require for your course are not available in the College Library, please talk to a member of Library staff. Recommendation cards for new purchases can be found at the Issue Desk, and all reasonable requests will be considered.

Help

If you have any difficulty in tracing the material you need, whether in printed or electronic format, please ask a member of Library staff for assistance.

Cover photo taken by Paul Everest.

St John's College Library

SUBJECT GUIDE:
ANGLO-SAXON,
NORSE & CELTIC

Resources for Anglo-Saxon, Norse & Celtic

I. Books

There is no single Anglo-Saxon, Norse and Celtic section in the Library. Works on language and literature are all shelved in the Penrose section, First floor. Religion and art are in the First floor wings. Works on culture and history are located amongst the history and archaeology sections on the Second floor.

Anglo-Saxon

Anglo-Saxon language	PE 100-500
General works are followed by grammars, and then dictionaries.
English Literature	PR
General literary history	PR 171-250
Anthologies of Anglo-Saxon works	PR 1490-1508
Individual authors and works	PR 1509 (alphabetical)
Anglo-Saxon history	DA 150-153 (Second floor)
Anglo-Saxon Church	BR 749 (First floor, Garden wing)
Anglo-Saxon art	N (First floor, Chapel Wing)

Some Anglo-Saxon texts may also be found amongst the publications of the Early English Text Society at PR 1119 in the main literature sequence.

Norse

Norse languages	PD 2201-2392
Icelandic and Old Norse literature	PT 7101-7338
Early Scandinavian history	DL 65 (Second floor)

This again follows the above pattern of general works and literary history, then collections of literature, then individual authors and works shelved alphabetically.

Celtic

Celtic languages and associated literature PB

General works on Celtic languages as a whole are followed by the Gaelic languages: Irish, Scottish, Manx, and then the Brittonic languages: Welsh, Cornish, then Breton. Within each section works on the language are followed by the literature of that language, starting with literary history and criticism, then anthologies, then the individual authors and their works.

Welsh, Scottish and Irish history may be found at DA 700- following British history on the Second floor.

Dictionaries

Some dictionaries may be found in the appropriate language sections. There are also dictionaries in the main Reference section on the Ground floor for use within the Library only.

Rare Books & Special Collections

One of the treasures of the College's manuscript collection is, of course, our tenth century Irish Psalter (C.9), the oldest complete manuscript at St John's. Our special collections include various grammars, histories, and texts published in the 17th and 18th centuries. Please ask the Special Collections Librarian, Kathryn McKee, if you would like to explore these resources further. Please contact km10007@cam.ac.uk

2. Journals

All of the libraries journal holdings, listed by subject, are available via the website: <http://www.joh.cam.ac.uk/journals>

Relevant titles include:

Anglo-Saxon England	DA 151.A5
Cambrian medieval Celtic studies	DA 700.C3
Jarrow lectures	DA 20.J3
Medium Aevum	PN 661.M4
Quaestio	D 111.Q3

Further titles are available online across the university. Ejournals can be searched via eresources@cambridge (see overleaf for more information).

3. Electronic resources

The Anglo-Saxon, Norse and Celtic Department webpage lists many links to key subject-specific resources and bibliographies: <http://www.asnc.cam.ac.uk/resources/index.htm>

These include:

CELT
Saxo Grammaticus Homepage
Dafydd ap Gwilym
Links to facsimiles of manuscripts
Links to repositories of Primary Sources