Various art reference works may be found in the Reference section on the Ground floor, including a set of the Pelican history of art volumes.

2. Journals

All of the Library's journal holdings, listed by subject, are available via the website:

The Library takes one architecture journal:

Architectural review: Current issues, Ground Floor
Earlier issues, Basement, filed under ARC

El Croquis: Chapel Basement, filed under CRO

E-journals can be searched via Cambridge LibGuides (see below for more information).

3. Special Collections

There are numerous items in the Special Collections in the Old Library that might be of interest to students of Art and Architecture. Many of its manuscripts bear fine examples of medieval illumination. It contains early printed volumes bearing important woodcuts by figures such as Albrecht Durer, as well as early editions of works of importance to art history, from Francesco Colonna's Hypnerotomachia Poliphili (1499), to Humphrey Repton's Observations on the theory and practice of landscape gardening (1805). Additionally it holds the personal papers of old Johnians, including both Cecil Beaton and Samuel Butler, as well as the latter's photographic collections, and material relating to the architecture of the College itself, most notably the 16th century plans of Second Court. Beyond this the Upper Library is itself a fine example of Jacobean Gothic architecture and woodcarving. Please ask the Special Collections Librarian, if you would like to explore these resources further.

Recommendations

The College Library aims to provide all works necessary for Part One courses, and a selection of the most important works required for Part Two. We receive reading lists from the departmental libraries in advance of each academic year, and continually update the Library collections in response to requests from Directors of Studies, supervisors, and students. You can recommend an item by using the online recommendation form or by filling in a recommendation form available at the Issue Desk. All reasonable requests will be considered. If texts you require for your course are not available in the College Library, please talk to a member of Library staff.
