Research and Data Manager
An overview of St John’s College, Cambridge

An inspiring place in which to work

For over 500 years, St John’s College has flourished as an independent and self-determining academic community, whose purposes are education, religion, learning and research, and which approaches its mission with an unwavering commitment to intellectual freedom and integrity. We are committed to sustaining and enhancing the College’s global renown for scholarship across a wide range of disciplines, and we aspire to be regarded as a beacon of academic excellence. St John’s is one of the largest and most widely known of the 31 constituent colleges in the University of Cambridge, which is consistently ranked amongst the top five universities in the world.

This is a friendly, warm, and welcoming place. The College is held in deep affection by its members, who include around 155 Fellows, about 550 undergraduate and 300+ postgraduate students, some 13,000 alumni worldwide, and by our 250 staff. Our community is a tolerant, inclusive, caring, respectful meritocracy, with genuine joie de vivre. We cherish the diversity of experience, culture, and perspective in members of the College, and the way this enriches our learning and our lives. We seek to balance how we fulfil our purposes today with our stewardship responsibilities for future generations in the College, and for the wellbeing of our planet.
Role of the Development Office

The Development Office exists to manage relationships with the College’s alumni and develop financial support to help the College and its people thrive.

St John’s has one of the most successful fundraising functions in any Cambridge College. In 2022, following the success of its pilot studentships scheme, we launched the pioneering Free Places scheme. This campaign aims to raise funds so that UK undergraduates with household incomes below 60% of the national median will be eligible for a free place at St John’s. The scheme will not only significantly increase the generosity of our provision for UK students from low-income backgrounds but will also be the cornerstone in making means-tested student support at St John’s self-sustaining, by virtue of an endowed fund.

Alumni relations activity takes various forms; from hosting events in College and around the world, to telling the stories of our alumni in print and online and keeping our members up-to-date with the latest news from the College.

Our work supports the strategic objectives of the College by building a flourishing global community which enriches the lives of its members and inspires the next generation.

You will receive access to training that will help you develop your career; comprehensive in-house training will get you started on our systems, the inter-Collegiate development network will increase your knowledge of the professional environment and external training will sharpen your skills.
